

"To waste, to destroy our natural resources, to skin and exhaust the land instead of using it so as to increase its usefulness, will result in undermining in the days of our children the very prosperity which we ought by right to hand down to them amplified and developed."

News for this month

Letter from the President

I would like to thank the membership for electing me as your president for another year and spicily all the board members and volunteers for all the hard work you put in to keeping this club a success. There is a couple of new things the club would like to try and get going this year. One is to try and organize a fishing camp for youths. and the other is to offer a class on hand guns 101 for women only and if there is enough interest we may start a woman's only shooting league. Again this year we are looking for volunteers for grounds keeping and mowing at the club house. If anyone would like to volunteer for anything please contact me by phone (338-2580) or E-mail ottawa_sportsmens_club@yahoo.com.

Recipe: A series of step-by-step instructions for preparing ingredients you forgot to buy, in utensils you don't own, to make a dish the family won't eat.

Baked Quail

"This is the essential game-bird hunter's recipe. If you've never had quail, they are very mild white meat, all breast, really. In any case, this is a tasty recipe that easily deals with a good brace of birds. You could use this recipe for 2 or 3 (thawed) Cornish Game hens if you increase the baking time to 1 hour and 15 minutes."

Ingredients

8 quail (cleaned and rinsed)
1 cup fresh mushrooms, chopped
1 cup Italian seasoned breadcrumbs
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon table salt
1/4 teaspoon ground red pepper
2 tablespoons olive oil
2 tablespoons flour
1 tablespoon seasoning salt
3 cups chicken stock
1 teaspoon scallion, minced
1 teaspoon fresh parsley, minced
8 orange slices (for garnish)
cooking spray

Directions

Pre-heat the oven to 325-degrees F.

If the quail have been shot in the wild, inspect them all for lead shot, removing any shot with tweezers or the point of a paring knife.

Lightly rub all the quail, inside and out with the seasoned salt.

In a large skillet, over medium heat, melt the butter and saute the mushrooms, bread crumbs, and table salt until the mushrooms tenderize a bit. Stuff the quail with this mixture.

Using the same skillet, make a roux by pouring in the olive oil and browning the flour in it. Then, add the chicken stock, scallions, red pepper, and parsley to the roux and saute the mix for about 5 minutes, until the onions are tender.

Next, spray a baking pan or large casserole dish with cooking spray and place the stuffed quail in it. Pour the sauce over the quail.
